Institutional Assessment of Student Engagement and Success

April 13, 2010
at the UVM Davis Center, Burlington VT
12:30- 4:30 pm

In an era of increasing accountability and focus on student success, higher education institutions aiming to be more intentional about assessing the impact of programs and practices on student indicators should attend this half-day institute.

This institute will engage participants in an exploration of tools, concepts and strategies for how to use student engagement data and other assessment results to inform improvement efforts in undergraduate education, particularly related to student learning and success. Campus teams are encouraged to attend this institute in order to work on concrete action steps for designing assessment strategies for their campus, as well as think through how to use student data to inform institutional discussions and report to stakeholders.

Jillian Kinzie, Associate Director, Indiana University Center for Postsecondary Research and the NSSE (National Survey of Student Engagement) Institute for Effective Educational Practice, will facilitate and work with teams throughout the afternoon. Sponsored by Connecticut Campus Compact.
